

ANISHINAABEMOWIN ABINOOJIIYAG MAZINA'IGAN

ANISHINAABE LANGUAGE

CHILDREN'S BOOK

Acknowledgements:

Master Speakers:

Corrine Houle, Turtle Mountain Language Project

Morris Houle, Turtle Mountain Language Project

Book Development By:

Marshall LaRocque, Turtle Mountain Language Project

Book Cover Art Developed By:

Nancy Houle

Book Art:

Jozef Mikulcik

ANA – Administration for Native Americans

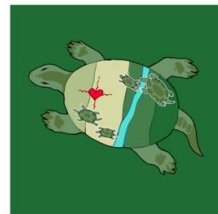

Turtle Mountain Language Project

Master Apprentice Program

Turtle Mountain Community College - Belcourt, ND

Turtle Mountain

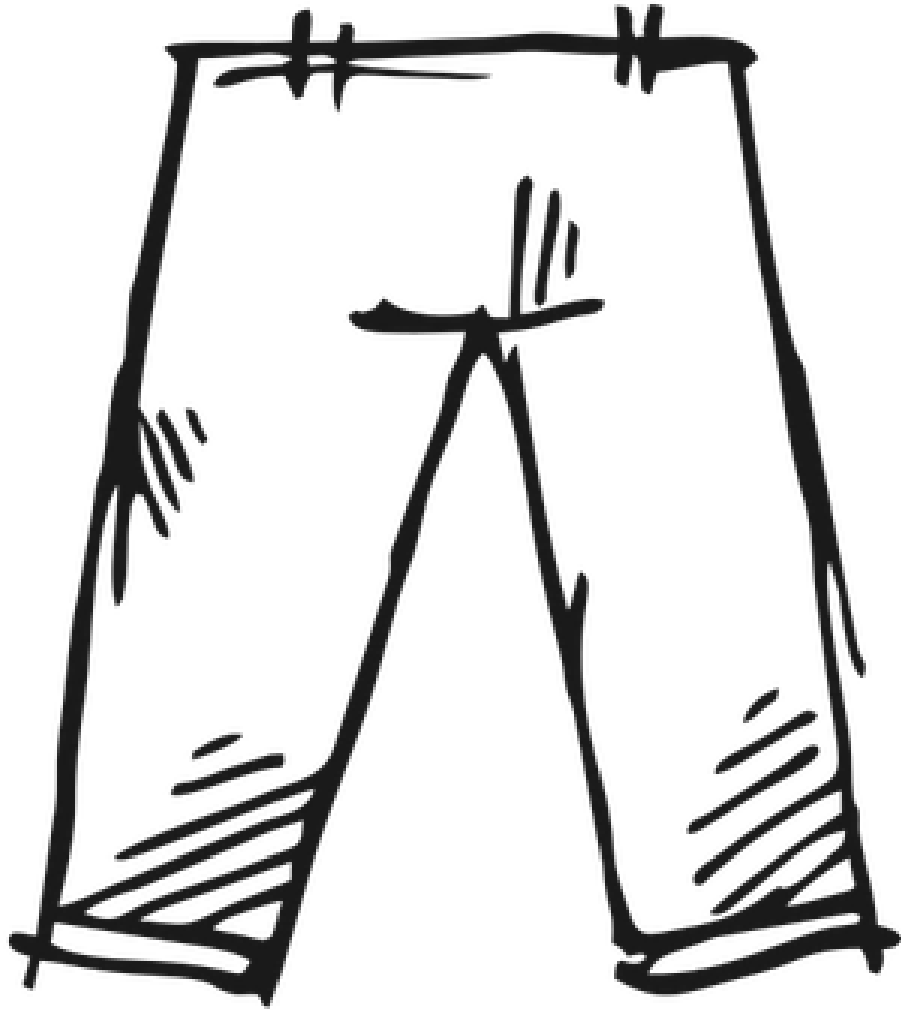

Language Project

Babagiwayaan

Pah-pah-kee-way-yawn

Shirt

Miidaas

Mee-toss

Pants

Dako-midaas

Dah-ko Mee-toss

Shorts

Oshkiizhigokaanan

Oh-shkee-shee-ko-kaah-nun

Glasses

Biiboonakazinan

Pee-poon-ah-kah-sin-nun

Winter Boots

Biitooshkigan

Pee-toosh-shki-kun

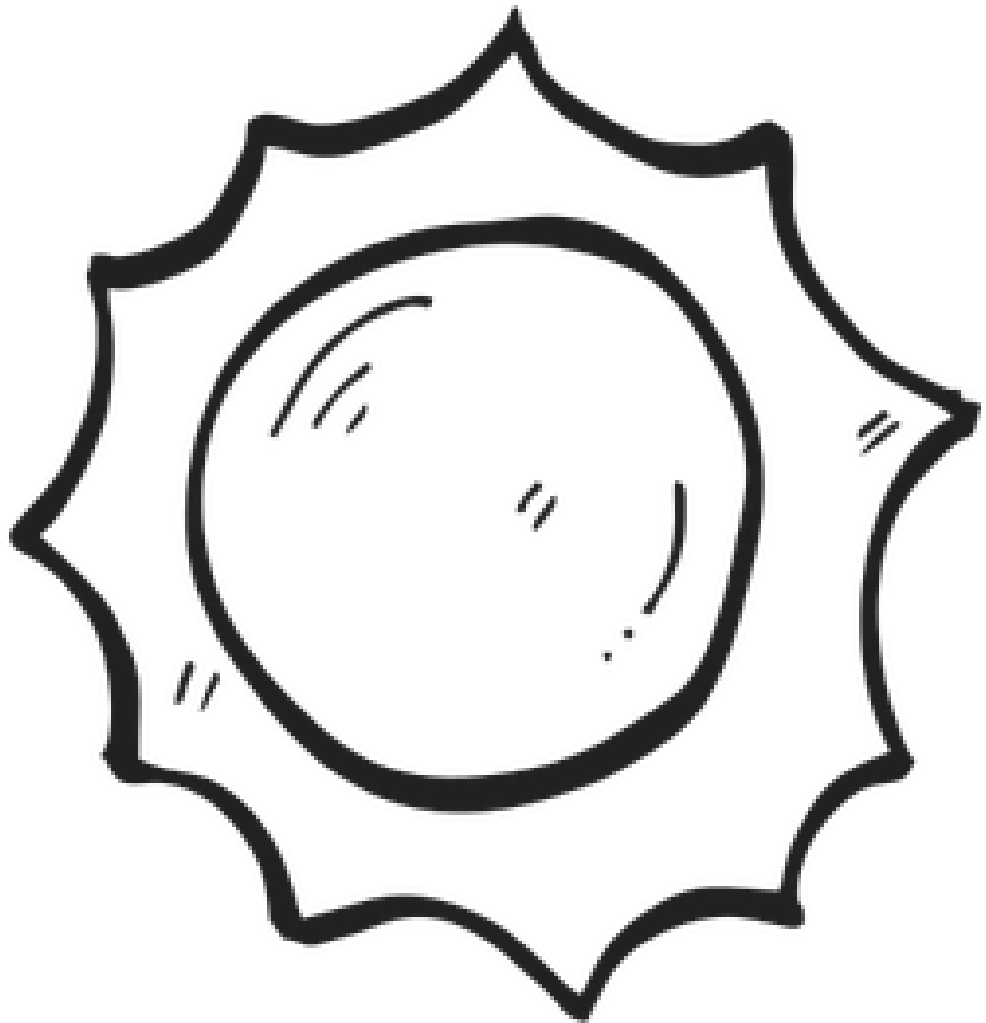

Underwear

WIKWAAN

Wee-qwaan

Hat/Cap

Giizis

Kee-ziss

Sun

Gimiwan

Kim-me-wun

It is raining

Binesiwag

Pen-ay-see-wuck

Thunderbirds/Thunders

Zaagata

Saw-gah-tay

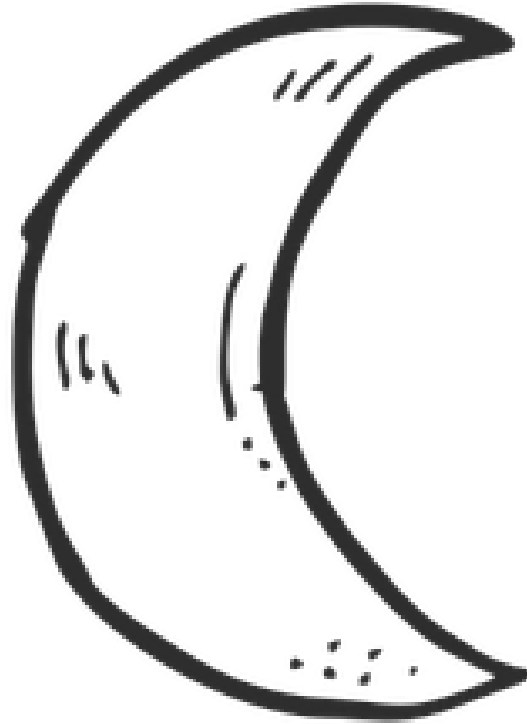

The sun is coming out

Wah-say-on

Wah-say-on

Tornado

Dibiki-giizis

Dee-pik-kee Kee-ziss

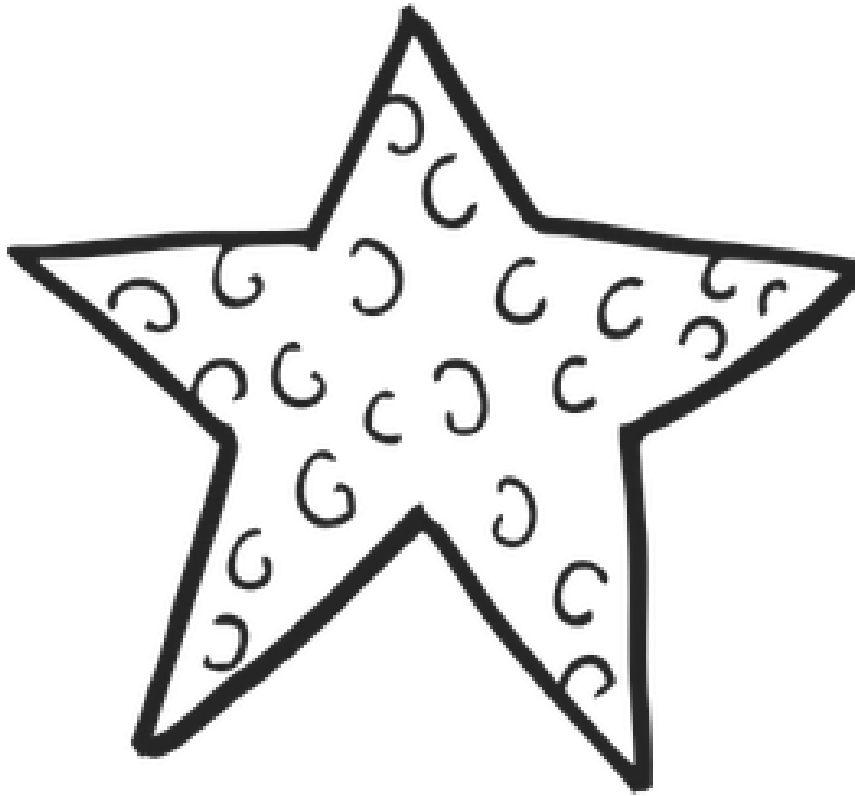

Moon

Aki

Ah-kee

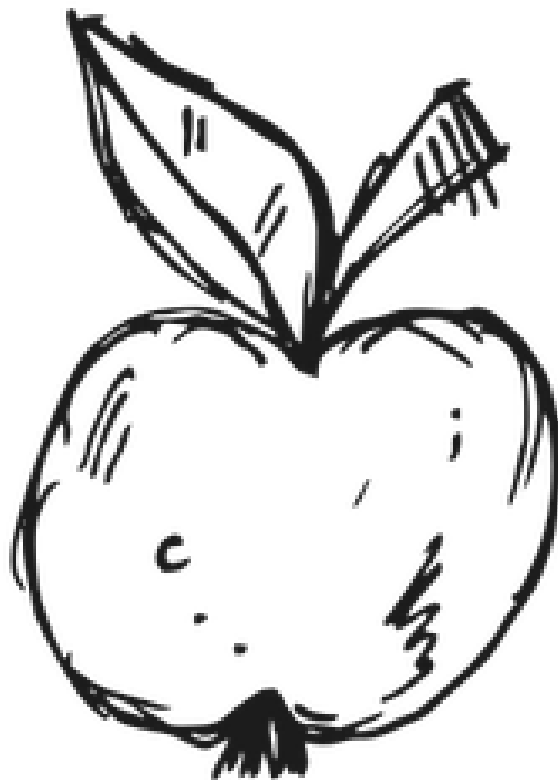

Earth

Anang

Uh-nung

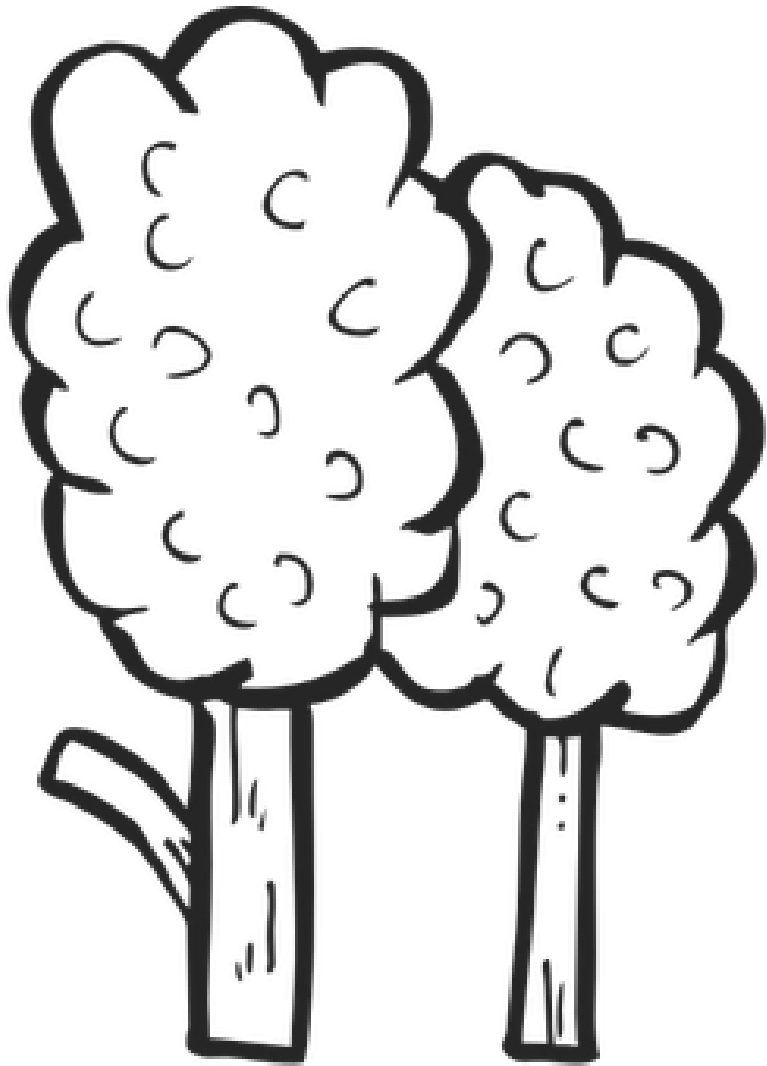

Star

Mishimin

Meh-shee-min

Apple

Mitigoog

Mee-tick-kook

Trees

Zhingob

Shin-kob

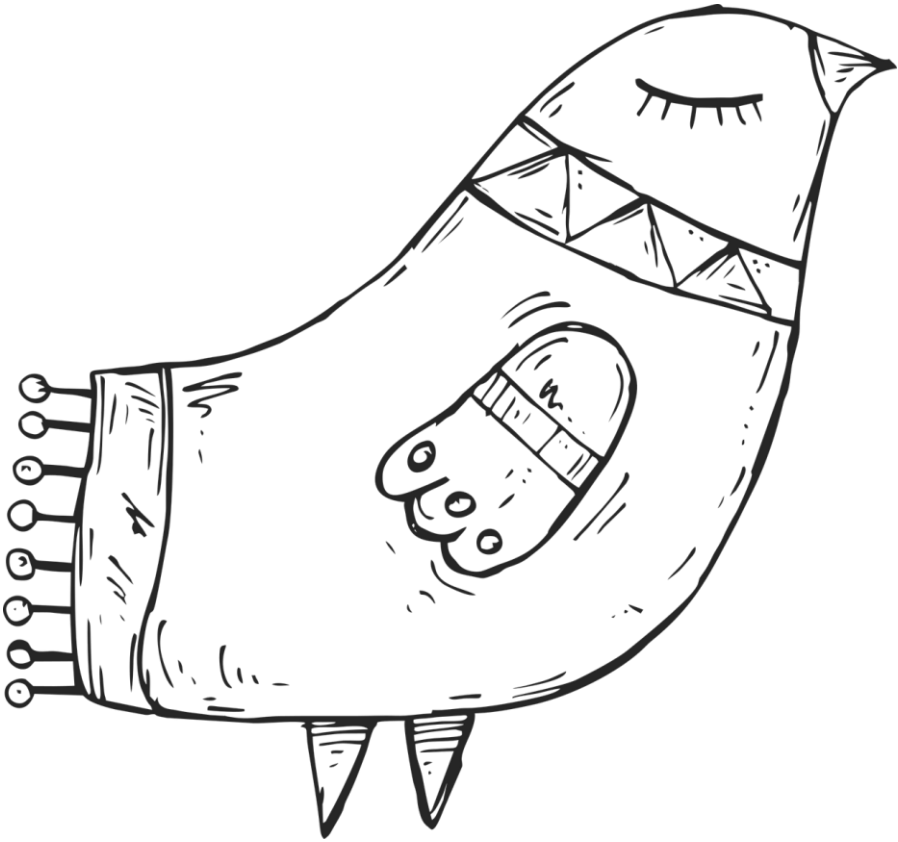

Pine Tree

A moo

Ah-moo

Bee

Bineshii

Pen-ay-shee

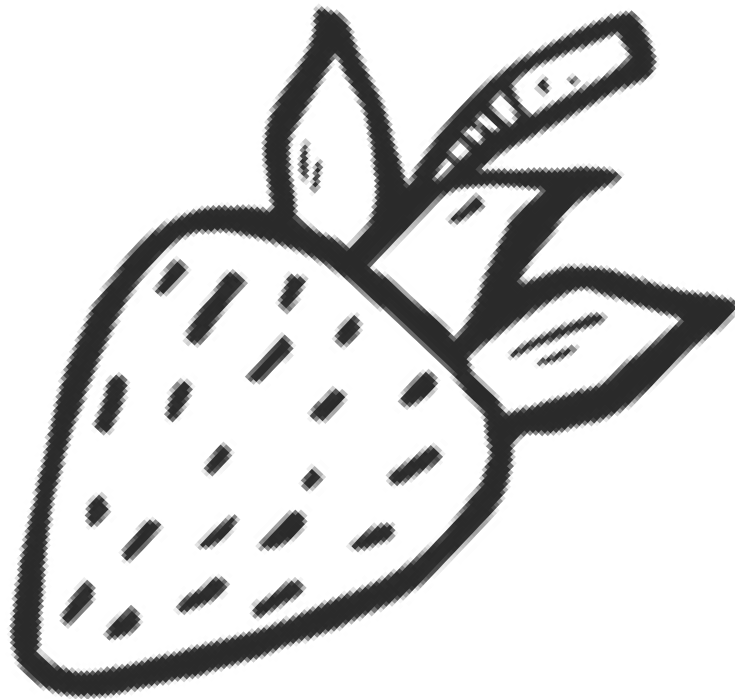

Bird

Aniioiish

Un-nee-peesh

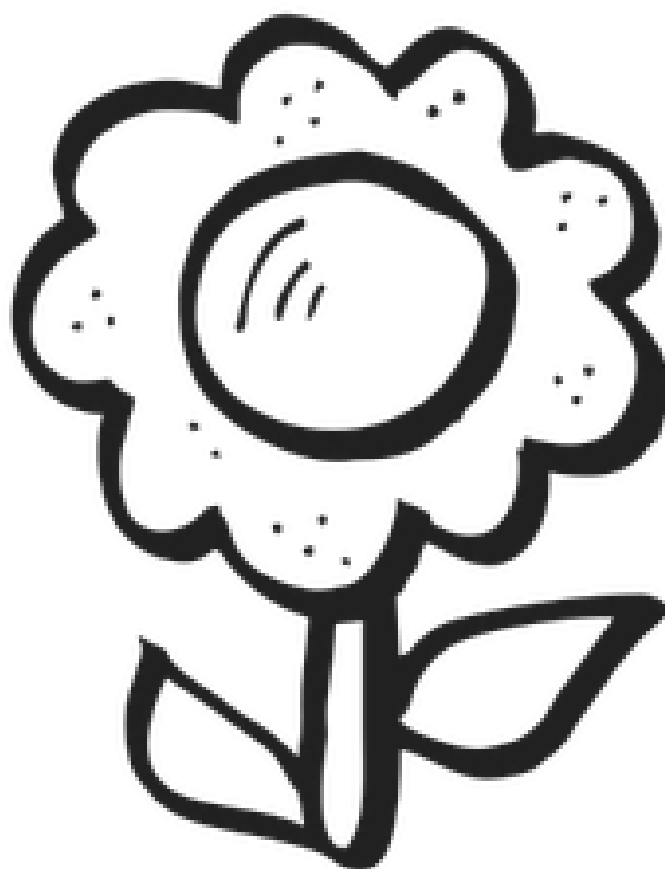

Leaf

Ode'imín

Oh-tay-ee-min

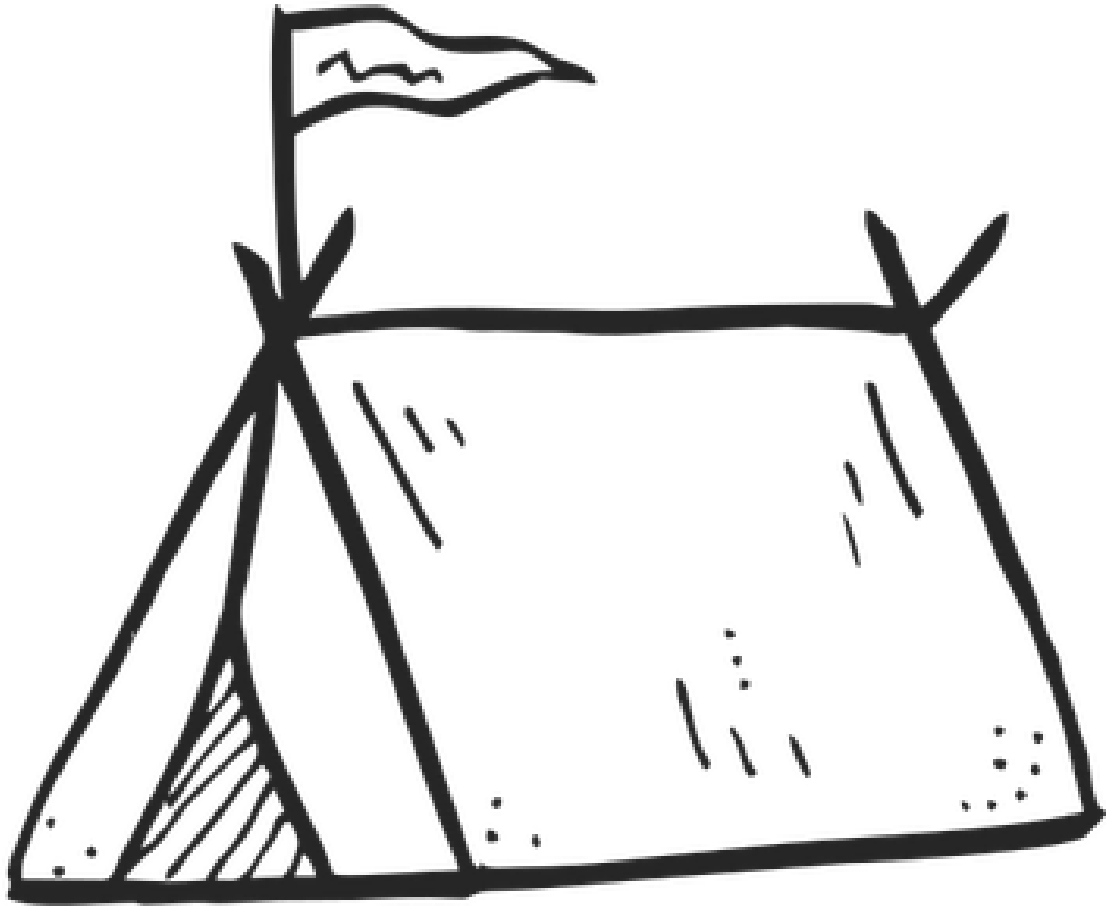

Strawberry

Wah-pee-kwun

Wah-pee-kwun

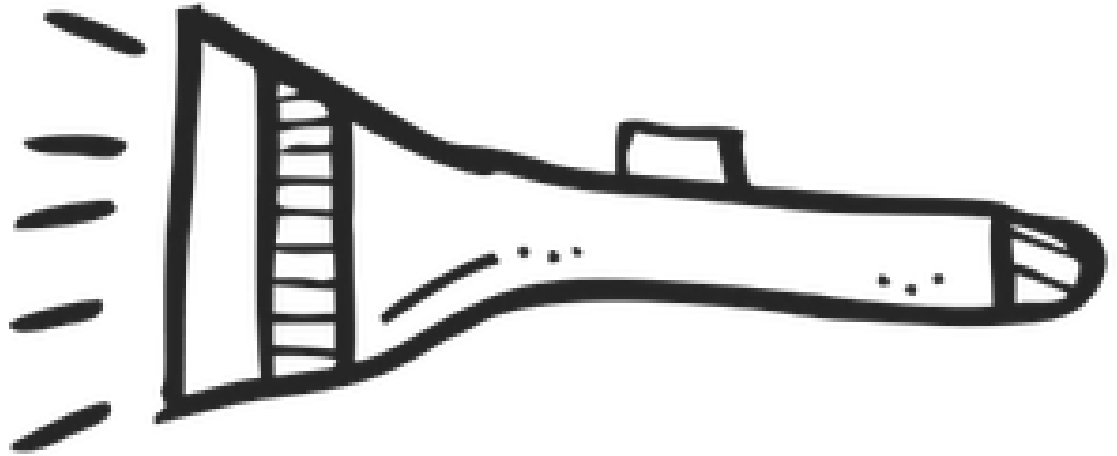

Flower

B
Bagwaane-gamig

Puk-kwan-nay kah-mik

Tent/Teepee

Waskwanenjigan

Wahs-skwah-nayn-chi-kun

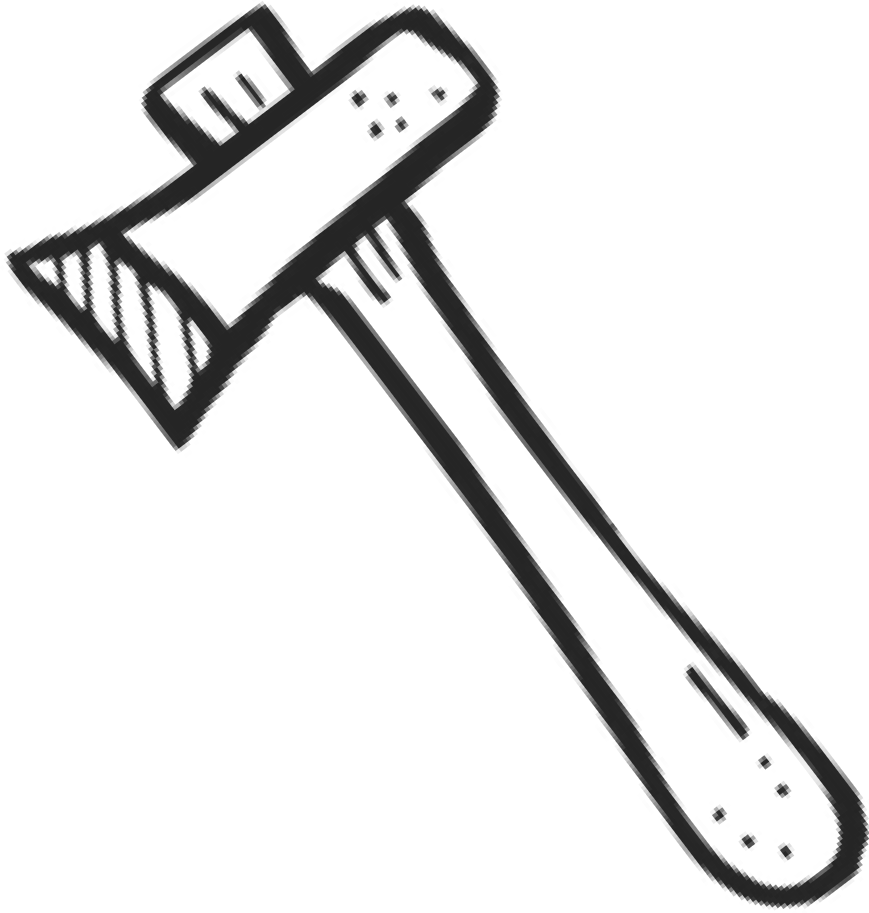

Flashlight

Ishkode

Ish-koh-tay

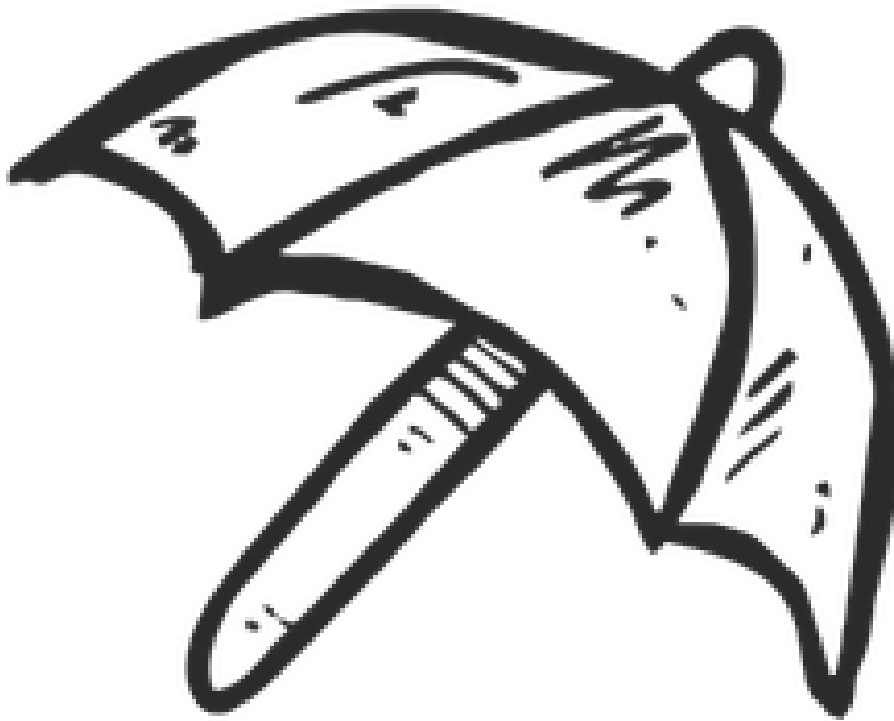

Fire

Wah-gah-qwat

Wah-gah-qwat

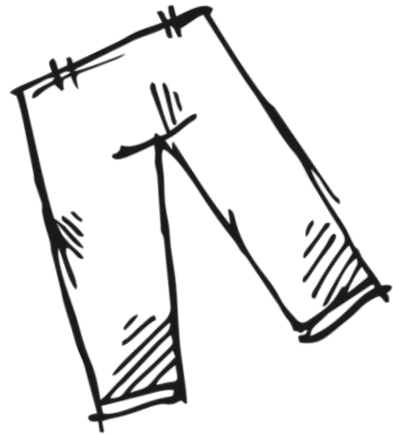

Ax

Aagawaate'on

Ah-gah-wah-tay-on

Umbrella

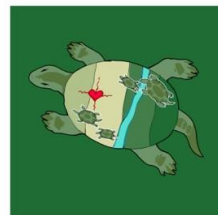

Sounds of the Language:

Developing the sounds of the language is a key part to language acquisition or language learning. Hearing the language and being able to make the sounds a fluent speaker makes is an important step to speaking the language yourself.

Each page has the word phonetically spelt to help the reader develop the sounds of the language. It's encouraged to read these books with the children so they may begin the process of learning the language and developing the sounds of the language as well.

Turtle Mountain

Language Project